A Salute To Elba!

Alabama Electric Cooperative is happy to join in a salute to Elba and its citizens during "Fall Festival Week", in recognition of Elba's fine growth and progress in recent years. As the wholesale supplier of electric power to the City of Elba, Alabama Electric Cooperative is grateful that it has been privileged to play a part in this growth.

To the officials and citizens of Elba who have worked together in a fine spirit of community cooperation to help Elba grow and develop, your friends at Alabama Electric Cooperative say 'Congratulations!' Too, we pledge to you our continued support, cooperation, and assistance as you look toward the future with great confidence and the full expectation that the years ahead will bring even greater growth to Elba.

More Power To Elba!

There is no better gauge to measure the growth of any area, than its use of electric power. It is, therefore, especially significant that the electric power requirements of the City of Elba have more than tripled during the past 10 years, a rate of growth far in excess of the national average!

Alabama Electric Cooperative is keeping step with the growth of the City of Elba and its 13 other wholesale power consumers in South Alabama and Northwest Florida. Solid evidence of the faith which Alabama Electric has in the future of Elba and the growing South Alabama - Northwest Florida area can be found in Alabama Electric's continuing system improvement and expansion program. Along with Elba and its citizens, Alabama Electric Cooperative is constantly looking toward the future, too.
